

MIAMI-DADE HOTELS SUPPORT MODERNIZATION OF SUN LIFE STADIUM

A number of hotel and tourism leaders have come out in the last week in support of keeping Miami First when it comes to remaining competitive for Super Bowls, college championship games, international soccer events and our community's pursuit of the 2019 Pan American Games.

"Preserving the stadium's ability to host the kind of large scale events that attract a critical mass is key for our continued ability to thrive as a tourist destination. The InterContinental Miami supports upgrades made to Sun Life Stadium that continue to bring major events to our great city and looks forward to the details of the current proposed renovations."

Robert Hill, General Manager, InterContinental Miami

"In order to remain competitive and attract prestigious national and international sporting and entertainment events the modernization of Sun Life Stadium is crucial to both short-term and long term economic growth."

Florencia Tabeni, General Manager, JW Marriott Marquis Miami

"At Trump National Doral, we understand the importance of world-class events as economic drivers. Steve Ross' commitment to modernize Sun Life Stadium – while covering most of the construction costs – is the right thing for Miami-Dade."

Donald J. Trump, Chairman

"We are on the verge of the greatest boom market in our industry's history and South Florida cannot afford to miss on opportunities to draw Super Bowls, college championship games and international events."

Jonathan M. Tisch, Chairman Loews Hotels & Resorts

"We support Steve Ross' efforts to create a world class facility that can continue to attract high profile events and in turn benefit the local economy."

Jeffrey Soffer, Chairman and CEO of Fontainebleau Miami Beach

Let's put our best foot forward in continuing to bring these economic drivers to our county. Over $1 billion of economic impact and thousands of local jobs are in our sights over the next 25 years.
