

From: Pedro Vargas
Sent: 7/23/2013 6:57 PM
To:
Subject: Apology Letter to ex

Hi

As I promised I am trying my best to send my most sincere apologies to everyone I injured with my comments.

To Bullet Line and To:

Please forgive me if I miss someone.

This is the hardest letter I have ever written... and I wish it could be handwritten.

I feel I owe you a personal apology for my insensitive comments, disrespectful and deceiving mails. I accept full responsibility for what happened. The main reason, I believe it is, I was sad to stop seeing you guys, enjoying lunch in your company and not been able to participate at the new place. Don't believe me, but I am pouring tears right now.

I acknowledge that feelings were hurt and that it might be difficult for you to accept my apology. It is time for me to show maturity and a promise not to repeat this mistake ever again as I am willing to meet for a personal apology and prove myself.

Please accept again my most sincere apologies and my deepest respect.

Sincerely,

Pedro Vargas